Identical twin brothers Terry and Jerry Lynn are an amazing story in the art world! Each one of them is an incredible artist in their own right, but together on the same canvas their creations are some of the most emotional bodies of work ever to be seen.

Jerry and Terry are identical twins, age 33, but paint like the old masters. They are truly an artistic phenomenon. The painting styles and techniques of TWIN are as connected as their physical presence.

Born, raised, and still residing in the suburbs of Memphis, Tennessee, the artists were highly influenced by their heritage. The brothers have accomplished much in their short career, including exhibitions in some of the country's top art shows, but they're not resting on their laurels. Twin was the official artists of the 1998 Essence Music Awards in New York and they created the official poster for the 1997 Philadelphia Art Expo. In addition they have been the live "painters" 3 years in a row for the world famous Kentucky Derby.
